Dear perspectives community partner,

I am excited to introduce an engaging program: "Broadcast Boot Camp Radio".

Overview:

Broadcast Boot Camp is a comprehensive social, emotional and interactive educational program designed to introduce youth to the fundamentals of radio show and podcast production.

This initiative aims to empower participants to communicate their causes, needs and experiences effectively.

Objectives and Impact:

Broadcast Boot Camp is a social impact project with a mission to keep youth engaged and off the streets, enhance self-esteem and confidence, provide valuable skills and opportunities applicable throughout their lives.

The program emphasizes the development of key life skills, including verbal communication, storytelling and self-expression. By the end of the program, participants will have collaborated to produce a radio show podcast, which will be available for download and placed on regular rotation on RADIOFREEDETROIT.ORG. Additionally, participants of the program are encouraged to create and submit their own programs on any topic at their convenience. Produced shows will also be featured in regular rotation on Radio Free Detroit and its affiliates

Who Can Participate:

This program is open to all school-age children, regardless of prior experience.

When and Where:

We are currently seeking community partners such as schools, libraries, community centers, youth organizations, afterschool programs, camps, and Rec & Ed programs. The program can be tailored to meet the specific time frame, age group, size, and needs of each organization. A nominal fee, which varies based on student enrollment, session length and number of sessions, is required from the organization or secured funds.

All necessary equipment for the program is provided, though organizations should supply internet access, electricity, tables, chairs and support staff or volunteers based on the number of participating students. Broadcast Boot Camp can accommodate organizations with multiple sites and locations.
